HOUSE COMMITTEE IN OPEN PROTEST AGAINST STINTING ON WARSHIPS

Washington, Dec. 15.—By a unanimous vote, the House Naval Committee today instructed Chairman Butler to present to the President the views of the committee on the condition of the Navy.

The views will be contained in a personal letter to the President. Mr. Butler said the text of the letter would not be made public by the committee because it represented an official communication from a committee of Congress to the President as commander-in-chief of the nation's military forces.

The committee has practically completed a naval building program on which it began work when it became known that the budget had made no recommendations for an appropriation to start construction on three light cruisers authorized by Congress.

It has been figured that $500,000,000 will be needed to place the navy on equal footing with other leading nations.

The committee's move in bringing the situation directly to the President's attention was a direct protest against the Navy's standing which between the Committee of Economy and the House of Representatives to keep the U. S. Navy up to the mark, and by the latter "saps" contention.

It is stated that little harmony has been between the Navy and the House of Representatives in Congress during this session.

A letter from Admiral E. W. E. Butler to the President is being prepared.

LANSLOWNE'S WIDOW TO WED BOSTON MAN

Less than 15 months after the death of Commander Zachary Lansdowne, killed in the crash of the ill-fated dirigible, Shenandoah, the engagement of his widow was announced today to John Caswell, Jr., of Boston and New York.

The announcement was made in the home of Mrs. Lansdowne.

DOHENY, MRS. FALL AND DAUGHTER IN TEARS

Washington, Dec. 15.—From the tears and heart throbs of the defense, the pendulum swung sharply back to the biting accusations of the prosecution today in the last ten minutes of the conspiracy trial of former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall, and Edward L. Doheny, millionaire oil operator.

Former Senator Alben Parker, of Ohio, special government counsel, was elected to close the cabinet case.

Doheny was in tears as the associate prosecutor declared the $100,000 loan to Fall as a bribe.

Fall's wife and his daughter, Mrs. Fall, were in the courtroom.

Children Foodless Appeal to Goodfellows Bares Family's Distress

Five doughnuts was all the food a Charlestown widow and her four young children had for an entire day this week, according to a report made by a Christmas Goodfellow worker of the Boston Evening American who dropped in to learn what the facts were.

ASK FOR FOOD.
She added that with her last dime she purchased five doughnuts to give her little ones.
"I haven't eaten a thing today myself," she added, "but that doesn't matter. I am not thinking of myself, but of my children, and I cannot bear to see them hungry. I spent my last dime today for the doughnuts which I gave to them."

HUB 'MYSTERY MAN' IN DAZE AFTER HIS RESCUE FROM MAINE ICE FLOES

A Boston man of mystery, who fails to respond in slightest degree to treatment of skilled doctors, was still a puzzle to medical science today after lying 114 hours on a Portland hospital cot—his body motionless, his eyes fixed in a baffling stare.

Up to his arm pits among the ice floes off the Portland boulevard, he was found by rescuers who, unable to coax him ashore, had to lasso him to save his life.

Rescued to the Maine General Hospital, he remained but three days, his condition still showing no improvement.

That was all. Though conscious, he appeared unable to say any more.

"Amnesia or some kind of complete psychosis," said hospital doctors, but the mysterious patient did not respond to the usual tests.

and trained experts in loss of memory cases were called in to work over him for hours without result. Most peculiar of all his symptoms was the fixed stare of his eyes, which did not move when a hand was whisked across his face.

SAW CRABTREE IN N. Y. IN 1880, SAYS ACTOR

Swearing the witness said, though he was behind the foot-boards and giving the testimony as an actor, that he had seen Jack Crabtree, the man who was killed in the crash of the Shenandoah, in New York in 1880.

"I saw him on the pier in New York when Lotta, her mother, her brother George and his wife called for him in 1880," he testified. And to explain, he said he was then himself an actor.

The party went to the witness.

HOW PITIFUL TRAGEDY WAS ENACTED

Placing her two children, Betty Ann, three years old, and Baby Pauline, five months old, in the bathtub, Mrs. Elizabeth Locasio, No. 56 Hammond street, Waltham, held their heads under water until they were drowned. Then she drank poison, dying a few hours later at the hospital, despite efforts to save her.

At the cross-examination by Attorney Hoy, Bainbridge was asked if Jacob Crabtree was on the payroll of Lotta's show.

"No," he answered. "Jack cut a figure with Lotta's troupe. He was just his brother."

Q—When did you strike Sam Francisco with the troupe? A—don't know.

Q—Had you ever been west before? A—No, that was the first time.

Q.—You testified you went to the wedding in 1882 or 1883?—A.—Yes. The program dated November, 1882, and I showed it to the witness.

Oscar W. Christian, a clerk in the New York custom house, then took the stand with the passenger list of the steamer Egypt, which came to America from England in September, 1880. The list showed Miss Lotta, occupation, lady; Mr. Crabtree, occupation, "gent"; Mrs. Crabtree, also a lady, and Bainbridge also a "gent," were passengers. Lotta was then listed as 23 years of age. The party came over in the saloon and all announced their intention of coming here "to establish an abode."

Edward Kidder, another old stager, testified to seeing Jack Crabtree in Providence in 1882.

LOTTA'S MANAGER.

Kidder testified he was Lotta's manager during that season. He brother Jack landed in Providence "broke" and she appealed to Kiddy to give him a job.

"He wasn't an actor," testified Kiddy, "but I gave him a job on the door at $25 a week. He acted like a professional without a hat or overcoat, and the weather was cold. I managed Lotta for 22 weeks during 1881-1882. We played Providence for three nights."

Who says she is still a dramatic artist and lives in New York, the second witness to testify—Jack Crabtree was in the east about 1881. The witnesses for Mrs. Cockburn placed him in the West during that time and say he then married Lotta Cockburn's mother, Annie Leopold.

Julian Reed, old-time footlight favorite, placed Jack Crabtree in Philadelphia about 1881. Reed once played with Lotta.

TWO BROOKLINE GIRLS FOUND IN NEW YORK

Two Brookline girls who have been missing for a short time last Monday were located in New York City, where they had been taken by a police officer who had been of their district.

Francine and Dorothy, who had apparently been taken without leaving a trace after they had been taken to a school in London at a high school in London, were found by Dorothy Gough, 13, of Perry street.

A letter received by Winthrop Aborn, 11, of Brookline, and written by the girls, was received by the girls.

Francine and Dorothy Gough, 13, of Perry street, were very of their own.

Dorothy Gough immediately notified her father, Mr. Aborn, who is a student at the Brookline High School, and who is living in New York City.

'BAD BEEF' QUIN
IS DEMANDED

Asking immediate action instead of waiting for the Legislature to move, John E. Curran of the governor's Council called on the House to pass a Representative bill to amend the law to substantiate his charge that beef is served in public institutions. "If the conditions are as bad as I describe them," said Curran, "the Legislature is obligated. It may take two or three months. Why not do it right away?"

He said four years ago the governor had in a similar case ordered superintendents of State institutions to reject bad foods and buy in bulk. "I am sure," he said, "that I could tell the representative he could not find," said Curran, "his was not a mistake. That order is still in effect. He has the power to do that."

BABE IN CASKET

The funeral will take place from the home of the victims, Hancock street, Waltham, followed by solemn requiem high mass in St. Mary's church.

The baby Pauline will be buried in the cemetery with her mother, and there will be requiem masses for her for three years. old Betty Anne, drowned with her three months' sister in a bathtub.

The Lockwood women were crowded from the sorrowing relatives and friends who went to pay their last respects to the young mother and her children.

It was generally believed that the tragic act was caused by a mental derangement due to the brooding of Mrs. LoCascio over the death of her sister-in-law. Little LoCascio, who killed herself, was hospitalized on the lawn of a Belmont hospital two years ago.

No one took to heart the death of the girl, and she was not even mentioned in the funeral service. She was buried continuously.

FAVOR TROLLEY CARS FOR B. & M. SAUGUS LINE

Because of positive proof, the transportation planning board today gave the proposal to electrify the Boston & Maine line of the Boston & Maine Railroad for rapid transit.

Since 1922 the board has been studying this project and at various times has asked the Legislature for an extension of time in which to report.

The board believes, however, that the territory contiguous to the Saugus branch is suitable of rapid transit development, with adequate space for industrial plants and housing purposes which, not be interrupted at a reasonable price between the two large cities, Boston and Lynn.

It suggests electrifying the branch for overhead trolley service from Lynn Center and over the branch where it crosses Broadway, through Saugus, Lynn, and Lynn Center to a point north of the Gloucester branch, where the trolley cars would be diverted to Lynn and thence to the present Lynn Center.

"The cost outside of rolling stock would be relatively small, only a few hundred thousand dollars," the report says. "Power could be purchased from the public utility companies serving the district."

STRIKERS' KIN ORDERED OUT OF HOMES

Edith Underwater, Dec. 14—The mother of the striking mother of the Old Colony Foundry face asked the police to remove her from their home.

Police families of strikers who live in what is known as the Old Colony Foundry, a tenement, received notice today that they must vacate their homes in Dec. 20.

The notice was from the Old Colony Foundry Company, which owned the Old Colony House.

A significant feature of the notice is to vacate the date set for the police to pick their few belongings and seek new homes.

December 20, the date set for the notice, is also the date set for the company to pick up the belongings of the strikers.

After the date of last Friday afternoon the families of strikers living in the Old Colony House were ordered to the police that they must vacate their homes.

Although the police have been ordered to the police that they must vacate their homes, however, has caused much to believe that the sensational strike will have had some basis.

Anderson was taken to the police station of Queen Mary of Romania and Mrs. Samuel Kravitch have been found in the jewelry.

A number of society people who have been robbed recently have been taken to go to headquarters in an attempt to identify the prisoner with their jewelry.

C. C. Chase, also had broken down and wept as the closing argument proceeded. Mrs. Chase finally got up and left the courtroom as Pomeroy argued for conviction.

His first move was an answer to the attack on his colleague, Owen J. Bolger, by Frank Hogan, chief defense counsel.

Walking over to Hogan, he said: "Hoganville as Mr. Hogan is of Worcester, no less honorable in his politics in Philadelphia."

"I tried to hear my colleague act and word about Mrs. Doheny. Hogan says he maligned her. She made three statements and we didn't expect anything."

DEFENSE HARKING

Pomeroy then took exception to the defense effort to show that all of the transactions had the personal sanction of the late President Harding.

"Did Mr. Harding know of the transaction? Did he know that so involved was the property? Did he know that so involved was the property?"

"I know Warren G. Harding, he was my personal friend. I don't regret that he has decorated his tomb by bringing forth his death to cover up this infamous transaction."

Frank J. Hogan, in closing his argument for the defense today, pointed out that John McVernon, the tutor, had said on the stand of defense: "I only hope that I may live my life as a citizen and a patriot."

Mark Thompson, member of Pomeroy's counsel, and his personal friend for twenty years, followed Hogan.

Speaking of the $100,000 loan by Doheny to Paul Thompson, said: "That was the clearest money that ever was made when a man one-time friend to another."

EXTRA TRAINS FOR STUDENT HOME TRIP

Special train and extra car movements were put into effect by the Boston & Maine Railroad to take care of students from New England institutions of learning, bound home for the Christmas holidays.

The rush began several days earlier than usual, and as a result the "Minute Man" was scheduled to leave the North Station at 5:30 p.m. today with three extra cars for Cleveland and Chicago. Two additional sleepers are added on the "Minute Man" tomorrow, and on Friday the "Minute Man" will run in two, and possibly three, sections. With the departure of students from the various colleges and schools extra train accommodations will be provided for all Boston & Maine passenger officials estimated that the road would handle 1200 students in the week beginning today, in addition to the considerable daily movement of the public generally to be at their homes for Christmas.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON BOSTON SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Women's Municipal League Show Tickets Are Having Lively Advance Sale

TICKETS FOR SATURDAY MORNING'S presentation of "Grass" at the Exeter Street Theatre by the Women's Municipal League are having a lively advance sale, going like the proverbial hotcakes, in fact by twos and threes and fours. And in small and large groups also, as one or another important matron makes reservations for a party of friends. Mesdames Leverett Bradley, Robert Farley Clark, George Tappan Barker, Arthur Shurtleff and Augustus N. Rantoul are entertaining parties.

ALSO MRS. GEORGE GROVER CROCKER, Mrs. William M. Wheeler, Mrs. Paul Hubbard, Mrs. Frederick T. Lord, Mrs. Henry O. Macy, Jr., Miss Evelyn Seavey, and a host of others have signified their intention to be present and to bring their friends. All of which foretells a vast financial success for the League's early winter benefit, and confirms the League in its very astute selection of "Grass" as sure to create great interest and bring out a record-breaking attendance.

THERE'LL BE A FLEDGLING SET of Junior League on hand at the theatre Saturday to do some of their probation duties as aides, ushers and program sellers. They are the girls who were elected last week or so ago, and this will be their first official appearance in a probationary way. Miss Elizabeth Ewer will be our fair Junior League, Miss Helen Hartt Mack of Chestnut Hill is another. Miss Nancy Hale, daughter of the artist, Philip L. Hale, is a third.

STILL OTHERS ARE THE PRETTY, Nondes Miss Sally Shaw, daughter of the T. Mott Shaw of Concord; Miss Caroline Rogers, who has her formal presentation this evening at the Somerset; Miss Polly Webster, who came out a year or two ago; daughter of the Gerald Boardman; Miss Jane Tucker, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Tucker of Chestnut Hill, and whose grandfather is Colonel House, friend and confidante of the late President Wilson.

MISS HELEN A. RUST is another probationary Junior League girl, who does some of her probationary duty by serving at the benefit. Miss Marie Louise Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gray, has but not least in the list, complete an interesting roster. Tickets may be purchased at the theatre on Saturday, and in advance of Mrs. Robert Treat Paine, 24, Heath street, Brookline, of Mrs. G. Hugo Jamaica Plain; Mrs. David J. Evans, No. 15 Beacon street; Mrs. Henry Tudor, No. 288 Beacon street; and at the headquarters of the League, No. 25 Huntington avenue.

A RADIANT and a marvel of a complexioned young woman was Miss Eleanor Drinkwater, the slender, tall and blue-eyed beauty, who last evening made her formal debut at a dance at No. 48 Beacon street. Her gown was a lovely creation in the pearl model, fashioned of peachblow liquid velvet and matching chiffon. Liquid velvet is a new fabric, soft as thistledown, supple as quillwork and shimmering as moonlight, so beautiful in itself that it needs no added adornment of head or instep.

MISS NANCY HALE The daughter of Philip L. Hale, the artist, is helping to put over the Woman's Municipal League show.

Kelloge Dines Coolidges Washington, Dec. 12 (A.P.)—President and Mrs. Coolidge were hosts at a dinner given by General and Mrs. Kelloge, General Pershing, Miss Blawie of Concord and Mrs. William F. Brooks of Minneapolis, who were guests.

ANDREWS KILLS YULETIDE JOYS Washington, Dec. 15 (A.P.)—Three prohibition pronouncements were made public today by Lincoln C. Andrews. That drinkers faced no cheerful outlook for Christmas liquor through House River that every effort will be made to give the enforcement officers the right to use $300,000 as a service money, and that the government can save much money by permitting the manufacture of additional whiskey for medicinal purposes.

PRINCE EITEL'S DIVORCED WIFE TO MARRY AGAIN Berlin, Dec. 14 (A.P.)—The Princess Eitel Friedrich, who was recently divorced from Prince Eitel, is planning to marry, according to reports in Prussian social circles. Herr von Helmman, a former officer in the guards, is understood to be her fiancé.

TIP FROM WIFE TURNS SEARCH TO MAINE

East Boston, Dec. 15.—White Chief of Police Edward P. Russell was attempting to trace the place where the body of poison found in the home of George H. Chamberlain was brought, he learned from Mrs. Chamberlain new information that leads the search for the man to Maine.

Mrs. Chamberlain, who was married more than a year ago, told the chief that she had seen the man in the home of George H. Chamberlain, had remained away for several weeks, and was then located in a small town in Maine.

Chamberlain had drawn all his money, nearly $1000, from local banks before his disappearance, which, in the opinion of Chief Russell, precludes the outside theory.

But the fact that the man had this large sum on his person only emphasizes the possibility of foul play.

KING GEORGE IN NEW PLEA FOR LABOR PEACE

By H. K. REYNOLDS,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London, Dec. 15.—Great Britain has lived for the greater part of the year "in the shadow of the most protracted and ruinous industrial conflict in its history," and now the nation must set its eyes "steadfastly on the future," said King George in his speech propounding Parliament today.

The King did not attend Parliament personally, but the members of both Houses assembled in the House of Lords and heard the speech read.

Most of the King's speech was devoted to the labor situation, stressing chiefly the situation created by the coal strike.

A feature was that for the first time in history the King spoke of "my ministers from the dominions" instead of merely "my ministers" in referring to the cabinet.

"During the greater part of the year," said the King, "we have lived in the shadow of the most protracted and ruinous industrial conflict in our history."

"When last addressing you I expressed the earnest hope that the report of the commission upon economic conditions in the coal industry would, with the willing cooperation of all concerned, pave the way to a solution of this great social and economic problem. This hope was not fulfilled."

"It remains to us now to unite in effecting all better measures of the past and to set our eyes steadfastly upon the future, inspired by a common impulse towards genuine reform and sustained endeavor."

Referring to the Chinese situation, the King said that affairs in China are being treated with the closest attention and that "our country is by a strong sympathy for that vast majority of Chinese people whose aspirations are for settled conditions and for a new era of prosperity and friendly relations with foreign powers."

FIND $1,334 ON AGED WOMAN
More than $1,300 in cash was found on Mrs. Della Cummings, 74, when she was taken to the Dedham street police station after being found wandering aimlessly today in the South End, off Columbus avenue.

"I don't trust banks," she told the police. "I have saved the money for fourteen years and it is all mine."

After a careful count, Lieutenant Burns reported there was $1,334.36 in the bag which the aged woman had secreted in her clothing.

She was taken to City Hospital for observation. According to the police she has no relatives and lived alone.

GARAGE BLAST IN SOMERVILLE
A hot air explosion in a boiler at the Ball Square Garage, No. 440 Broadway, Somerville, tore out the right side of the building and killed a man, John Lester, night manager, 40, who was in the street.

John Lester, night manager, 40, died of wounds received in the explosion. He had left the boiler room and had gone to another part of the garage only a short time before the explosion occurred.

ALTERED U. S. TEXAS HAS SUCCESSFUL TRIP
Norfolk, Va., Dec. 15 (A. P.)—The battleship Texas, flagship of Vice Admiral J. H. Johnson, commander-in-chief of the United States southern fleet, has returned to the Norfolk Navy Yard from a successful shakedown cruise of three weeks to the West Indies.

The Texas, recently altered to meet modern naval standards here at a cost of $1,000,000, developed no trouble, naval experts said.

Performance of the Texas was watched with interest in naval circles in view of the extensive modernization program of the navy.

KING AND PARLIAMENT
BOTH TO CHANGE TITLE
London, Dec. 15 (A. P.)—Premier Baldwin told the House of Commons today that when legislation was introduced to enable the contemplated change in the King's title to be effected, the government would take the opportunity to propose that the title of parliament in the future be the parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

DO YOU KNOW YOUR OWN MIND TOO WELL?

You are desirous of convincing those you meet with the ideas (the you) are the sort "who know your own mind" and so you stick to the same principles and opinions you have expressed, even when they are actually proved wrong.

Good judgment would warrant a change of thought, but no one would guide for you after you have said what you think.

It is a habit of mind to be firm and unshakable, so you stick to your opinions in the face of evidence to the contrary.

You have such an exalted opinion of yourself that you cannot be swayed by the attitude of accepting suggestions from others.

If you are an employer you may find that your employees know that you are an employer who orders and does your thinking.

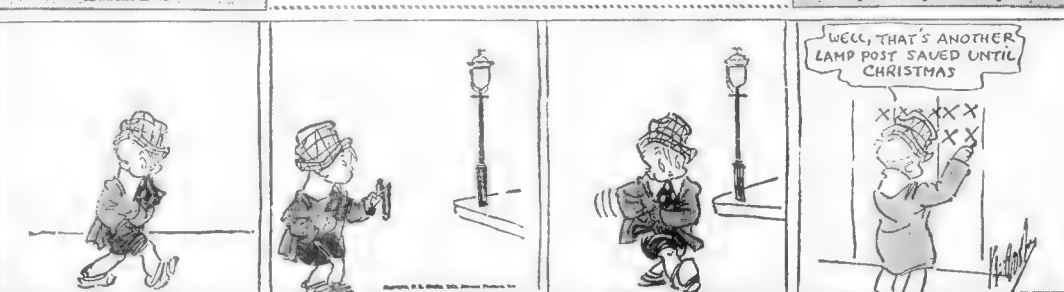

You are the thinking equipment, and are one of the few who dares to question your wisdom - you won't stand change, any more when the questioning does raise a momentary wave of awe.

So you must let go, because you want to be known as firm and unyielding.

Best Way to Loosen Stubborn Cough

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easy and cheap to make.

Here is a home-made remedy which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest surfaces (cilia, pharynx, larynx, etc.) become calmer, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual "croup" and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, throat tickle, or bronchial asthma.

To make this wonderful cough cure, pour 2 1/2 cups of Pine Tar into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar, and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keep perfectly and tastes good.

Pine Tar is a special and highly concentrated compound of Rosin, Norway pine extract and palmitic acid, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask a year druggist for "50 cups of Pine Tar" with directions. Be determined to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pine Tar Co., St. Wagon, Ind.

THE MEDITATIONS OF A WIFE—BY HELEN ROWLAND

By HELEN ROWLAND
At twenty, marriage is an adventure; at thirty, a compromise; at forty, an accident; at fifty, an experiment; and at sixty, a refuge.

A man is not hopelessly in love until he discovers that some woman's kisses have ceased to be a luxury and have become an absolute necessity.

A "strong man," these days, is one who can hold a lot of wine and a lot of love at the same time, without losing his equilibrium and getting coiled into a foolish entanglement.

You can't argue a man into loving you just by proving that he "ought to"; but you can nearly always tempt him into it if you can manage to convince him that he "ought NOT to."

The difference between dancing at twenty and dancing at forty is the difference between feeling a man's "forward breath upon your cheek," and being conscious only of the painful "puffing" above his heavy diaphragm.

It makes a man almost so indolgent, not to be allowed to break his date, his sentimental promises, and his New Year's vows, as it makes a small boy not to be allowed to smash his own Christmas toys.

A woman is always asking a man embarrassing questions. Before marriage she wants to know why he loves her, and after marriage she wants to know "why he ever married her."

And no man can ever give her the answer to either of these deep mysteries.

A man always says that he loves a girl because she is "different"—which translated, usually means because she is indifferent.

Wondered Why Breath Was So Bad
Brooklyn. Miss Rose Dittmar writes:—"Even though I brushed my teeth and used a mouth wash, my friends turned away when I talked and I wondered why my breath was so offensive, while people less careful were not troubled. After taking Carter's Little Liver Pills for a while the trouble started to disappear. I also noticed my face had better color and was clearer, my eyes brighter, my appetite more hearty, and I had no constipation." Bad breath must be reached at the source of the trouble. Mr. Taxpayer Is Wondering

By T. E. Powers

Remember, NO BLUE CHRISTMASSES IN GREATER BOSTON!

Where Is the Writer Now?

"Dear Heart of Mine:
This red, red rose, my Christmas gift to you, is but a symbol of love, devoted, faithful, true, for love is like a rose, dear heart, fresh as the early morn. Gae took the beauty of the skies, the glory of the dawn, the fire of pas-alon, the calm of even unto golden glow and with the mystery of the stars He made the love we know.

So is the rose you find me,
dear, the love it can impart; love, loyal, true and absolute, the offering of my heart. E. W. H.

We do not want to own France nor any other country. We have too much territory now. We simply want to mind our own business and to trade with other countries.
